Accommodation

The Fairline Targa 64 offers owners 6 berths and boasts a superb, full-beam master stateroom amidships with oversized double bed, wardrobe, dressing table, and access to the master en-suite shower room. The en-suite aboard the Targa 64 features an electro-chromatic partition; a high-tech system that changes the glass from opaque to transparent at the flick of a switch, allowing light to flood through the feature windows into the cabin. The Targa 64s master accommodation is complemented by a forward stateroom with oversized double bed and en-suite access, as well as a unique twin side-by-side port cabin that can convert to a double berth if required. In addition to the sleeping accommodation, the Targa 64 has a spacious outdoor cockpit that features a comprehensive galley bar, folding solid teak table, and extensive seating for al-fresco entertaining. Walking indoors reveals a luxuriously appointed deck saloon and helm position, maximising the available light from the curved side windows and huge sliding full-width roof. The deck saloon hosts a height adjustable folding electric table, forward L-shaped seating with coffee table, and a practical yet stylish sideboard that houses an integrated icemaker and bottle, glass and cutlery stowage.
